“We must guard against being fooled by false slogans, such as ‘right to work.’ It is a law to rob us of our civil rights & job rights. Its purpose is to destroy labor unions & the freedom of collective bargaining by which unions have improved wages & working conditions of everyone... Wherever these laws have been passed, wages are lower, job opportunities are fewer & there are no civil rights. We do not intend to let them do this to us. We demand this fraud be stopped.”

- Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

All Labor Has Dignity

A conversation with Martin Luther King Jr. scholar Michael Honey on Dr. King & Labor (plus a call to action) — on the precipice of the “right to work” vote in NH

Monday April 5, 2021
6:30-7:30 p.m. — via Zoom

Michael K. Honey, a former southern civil liberties organizer, is a scholar of African American, labor, and civil rights history and of nonviolence and Martin Luther King Jr. He is a Professor of Humanities at the University of Washington Tacoma. Dr. Honey’s recent works include the book To the Promised Land: Martin Luther King and the Fight For Economic Justice and the film Love and Solidarity: Rev. James Lawson and Nonviolence in the Search for Workers’ Rights.
