Rev. Bryan Sirchio

Rev. Bryan Sirchio, an ordained minister in the United Church of Christ, is a Contemporary Christian singer/songwriter who defies convention, creating original music in a variety of different styles, and singing from the heart. He has been writing music since the age of 17 - songs that express and reflect upon his own spiritual journey, life experiences, and love of his faith. His themes range from social justice issues and adult theological reflection, to silly/quirky, biblically-based music for kids and teens.

For the past twenty two years, Bryan has been traveling all over the world with his ministry - Crosswinds Music – teaching, inspiring, entertaining, and spreading his faith at retreats, concerts, and worship services. He has released 12 CD’s, 3 study guides, and 4 songbooks.
